Ohio Fuel Gas To Construct New Building

Construction of a new service building for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. will start this week on the company's lot on the east side of Leader street, just south of the underpass.

The old metal building will be torn down and the lot cleaned and graded in preparation for the new building, the company announced today.

The one-story building will be constructed of cement block about 25 feet back from the Leader street curb line. Drives will enter from the north side and exit on the south. It will be 75 feet wide and 140 feet long.

Automotive equipment, material and supplies, and appliance stock will be housed in the building, which will also include offices for the district foreman, warehouse clerk, stock man, and plant foremen. Plans call for an assembly room for the plant and service employes with an individual desk for each employe. Individual lockers for employes will be provided in the rest rooms.

The lot will be covered with black top, with employe parking space in the rear and parking space for visitors in front. The rest of the frontage will be landscaped.

General contract for the work was awarded to the Steward Construction Co. Completion is expected early in the spring.

Crowds Welcome Royal Couple

Princess Elizabeth, Philip Arrive In Montreal By Plane

MONTREAL, Oct. 8—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, came to Canada in a trans-Atlantic plane today for their first visit to the North American continent Their great 60-ton plane was sighted over Dorval airport here at 11:31 a m, E.S.T.

Ten minutes later the royal couple stepped from the plane at the airport, 16 miles outside Montreal They were 19 minutes ahead of schedule.

The governor general, Viscount Alexander, was on hand to welcome them.

As the huge American-built stratocruiser "Canopus" rumbled into view overhead, thousands of Canadians cheered lustily. A guard of honor snapped to attention, ready to welcome the royal couple on the first stop of their tour, which will include a visit to Washington at the end of October.

The ace pilot of the British Overseas Airways corporation, O. P. Jones, had been flying at 24,000 feet, reporting fine weather above the low-hanging clouds. His orders were to circle Montreal and put down at noon, sharp.

At the airport authorities had made arrangements to handle a crowd of 100,000.

Refuel at Gander

The plane touched down at Gander, Nfld., at 4:50 a.m. (E S T.) for refuelling. There the princess and the duke were welcomed by a message from Sir Leonard Outerbridge, lieutenant governor of Newfoundland, who said:

"On behalf of the government and people of Newfoundland, with humble duty I welcome your royal highness on your first stop on Canadian soil. We are very happy and proud that it should be in Britain's oldest colony and in Canada's newest province. We wish you a pleasant journey to your destination. All Newfoundland looks forward to your Royal Highness's visit here in November"

The princess replied:

"I thank you most sincerely for your message. My husband and I are indeed looking forward to meeting you and the people of Newfoundland when we return here at the end of our tour"

The plane, ahead of schedule, continued on to Montreal. At 11 a.m., when the control tower at Dorval field announced the plane should be sighted in another 15 minutes, the crowd stirred with anticipation. Canadian mounties doffed their raincoats and prepared to stand shoulder to shoulder with Quebec provincial police to watch the crowd and guarantee the security of the royal couple.

Factories near the airport hoisted flags for the royal arrival, and the two railway stations of Dor-

Iran Premier Arriving For Oil Showdown

Mossadegh To Joust With Britain's Jebb In Security Council

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—Iran's premier Mohammed Mossadegh is scheduled to arrive today by plane to present his country's case to the United Nations Security Council in the oil dispute with Britain.

The council is not expected to meet before Thursday. Meantime the aged and ailing premier is expected to hold bedside conferences with U.N. diplomats from a suite in New York Hospital. Iran contends that nationalization of her oil is a domestic problem and the U.N. should refuse to interfere.

Reports from Rome and Amsterdam, where the premier's plane stopped yesterday, described him as grimacing with pain and trembling with nervousness. At both stops he made only brief appearances.

17 in Party

Mossadegh is accompanied by his physician son, his daughter, deputy premier Hussein Fatemi, three members of the Iranian national oil board and other officials Tehran dispatches said there were 17 in the party.

In the U.N. battle over the fate of the A.I.O.C., Mossadegh will face Britain's suave Sir Gladwyn Jebb, whose rapier-like wit has punctured the rhetoric of such a formidable adversary as Russia's Jacob A. Malik.

The U. S. has maintained a rigorous silence about its position in the council.

BEATEN TO DEATH

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8—(AP)—Police today sought to learn the identity of a man whose beaten body was found in a field on the east side yesterday. His entire face was fractured and police said he apparently had been beaten to death.

Mao Steps Up Aid to Reds In Indo-China

SAIGON, INDO-CHINA, Oct. 8—(AP)—Intelligence sources said today Red China is stepping up the flow of military aid to Ho Chi Minh's forces in north Indo-China, where French and Vietnamese are battling a new major Communist-led offensive.

Fragmentary reports available to officials here indicate that after a sharp decline in Chinese aid to Ho which followed the outbreak of the Korean war, the Chinese have begun expanding facilities for larger deliveries.

The Kwangsi city of Nanning, 90 miles from the Indo-China border, has become the principal base for Chinese-Vietminh cooperation. Liaison headquarters is there, and persistent reports say a Russian military-political mission also is stationed at Nanning. The Russians are said to have visited Vietminh installations in North Indo-China recently.

The Ho Chi Minh forces broke out their new offensive only last week. The French reported yesterday that their parachute troops had gone over to the counterattack in the mountainous Thai country, supported by flaming napalm bomb attacks by the French air force which were said to have checked the Vietminh drive.

Storms Hit East, 10 Die

By The Associated Press

Ten persons were killed Sunday as rough weather slammed the country from the Mississippi Valley to the North Atlantic states and eastern seaboard.

In the northeast, high winds, thunderstorms and driving rain raised havoc.

Wind-churned seas threatened craft on the Great Lakes and off the Atlantic coast. Storm warnings went up on all the Great Lakes except the Ontario. Off the eastern coast, the Coast Guard received numerous distress calls from small craft.

Seven of the ten deaths attributed to weather conditions occurred on highways. A bus skidded off a slippery road at Gainesville, Va., killing five and injuring at least 15. Two servicemen were killed in Philadelphia as their car skidded on a rain-swept highway.

A plane crash in which three Air Force men were killed was believed to have occurred about midnight Saturday near Fort Knox, Ky., during a thunderstorm.

Want Boyle, Gabrielson To Resign

Republican Senator And A.D.A. Say Party Leaders Should Quit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—(AP)—Call for the resignations of the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican national committees came yesterday from Americans for Democratic Action (A D.A.) and from Senator Nixon (R-Calif).

Nixon and the A.D.A., not often in agreement, used similar arguments in declaring that William M. Boyle Jr, the Democrat, and Guy G Gabrielson, the Republican, should step out.

Nixon is a member of the Senate investigations subcommittee which last week wound up hearings into the relations of both party chieftains with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC). Both men denied any wrongdoing, both said they were only doing their duty, and neither indicated any intention of resigning

The Senate judiciary committee, meanwhile, turned to consideration of a bill which Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said would "take the profit out of political influence"

Would Ban Fee Taking

The measure, sponsored by Senator Byrd (D-Va) and others, would prohibit officials of any national political party from taking fees or other benefits for negotiations with federal agencies on behalf of themselves or others.

McCarran said the bill is one which Congress must approve before it adjourns for the year.

Nixon said in a statement that both Boyle and Gabrielson have lost their usefulness, although he declared the Senate investigations had turned up "no evidence of illegality or moral turpitude" in the actions of either.

A.D.A. is a political organization which includes many adherents of the old New Deal and of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program.

$225 Taken In Burglary

A total of $225 in cash and merchandise was stolen when the home of Robert Hoch of 330 Owens street was ransacked some time Saturday evening.

Every room in the home was entered and the contents of drawers, cupboards, and closets were strewn about, police reported. A total of $165 in cash was taken from beneath the mattress of a bed in a downstairs bedroom. Two watches, valued at $30 each, were taken from a cupboard.

Entry to the house was made through an unlocked door. Mr. Hoch is employed at the Eagles lodge on West Center street and his wife had met him when he finished his work late Saturday night and the couple went home together.

When they arrived they found the house ransacked. The burglary was reported to police at midnight Saturday. Mr. Hoch's mother, Mrs. Hattie Hoch, who lives with the family, had been home earlier in the evening but had gone to a movie and returned after her son did. She said the money was taken from beneath her mattress where she had hidden it.

The men are leaving for Europe to bolster General Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact forces. In the reviewing stand (l. to r.) are Gov. Dennis J. Roberts, of Rhode Island; Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.); Gen. Mark W. Clark, Chief of the U. S Army Field Forces; Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer, 43rd Division Commander; Gov. John D. Lodge, of Connecticut; Lt Gen. Edward H. Brooles, Commanding General of the Second Army; Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), and Gov. Lee E. Emerson, of Vermont.

Veeck Picks Hornsby To Lead Browns

Back to Majors After Managing Seattle to Pennant

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby signed to manage the St. Louis Browns for three years, Owner Bill Veeck announced today. No financial terms were disclosed except that Hornsby's salary will be the greatest ever paid a Browns' manager.

Hornsby came east for the World Series from Seattle, where he managed the Pacific Coast League entry the past season. He managed the Browns briefly during the 30's and starred both as a manager and a player with the Cardinals, St. Louis' National League team.

Veeck said that Hornsby's coaches would be determined mutually later.

Three Offers

When Hornsby left the coast on his series trip he said he was considering three offers to return to the majors. None was identified.

Hornsby replaces Zack Taylor as manager of the Browns. When Veeck, the dynamic redhead who startled the baseball world with his crowd-catching methods while directing the Cleveland Indians, took over control of the Browns in midseason he indicated he would probably seek a new manager.

Taylor has been promised a job with the Browns' organization, but has not indicated whether he will accept.

Brings Senators "Fresh Material"

Stassen Testifies in Inquiry On Confirmation of Jessup

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen went before a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee today armed with "fresh material" bearing on the nomination of Philip C. Jessup to be a delegate to the United Nations.

Last night in New York portions of the diary of the late Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) — dealing with a secret White House meeting in 1949 — were made public. Stassen has cited the meeting in earlier testimony before another congressional committee.

He said Vandenberg told him that Jessup and Secretary of State Acheson advocated cutting off aid to Nationalist China at the meeting.

The diary, however, does not mention Jessup. Vandenberg attended the meeting himself. He wrote that President Truman reported a recommendation from the National Security Council for halting military aid to the Nationalists. Acheson was a member of the council at that time.

In advance of today's hearing Senator McCarran (D-Nev) came out against Jessup's confirmation. He told a reporter that Vandenberg's diary showed "without question" that Stassen, former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, was right in his earlier testimony.

But Senator Lehman (D-Lib, N Y) told a reporter the appointment of Jessup was a good one and that the Senate would approve it. Jessup is now U. S. ambassador-at-large.

Debate Major Issues

Meanwhile, the Senate-House conference committee writing out a final tax bill got down to the big points in dispute between the different revenue measures passed by both branches.

The bill will up taxes by $5,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000 a year —but just how much won't be known until the conference group reaches a compromise.

Major points at issue are the size of the individual income tax boost, the excess profits tax boost, if any, and whether to impose corporation taxes on unallocated profits of co-operatives, now untaxed.

Senate leaders opened a drive today for early adjournment by asking quick approval of three bills involving the spending of more than $65,000,000,000.

They are: a compromise $56,937,808,030 defense money bill; a compromise foreign aid measure authorizing a $7,483,400,000 program of economic and military aid for the free world; and a new $1,751,196,781 catch-all money bill carrying funds for a score of federal agencies, including those running the controls and civil defense programs.

Senate approval of the first two will send them to the White House. All three are on the Senate's "must" list.

Democratic leader McFarland of Arizona is shooting for adjournment on Oct. 20, but that date appears somewhat optimistic.

The House, generally further along with its work than the Senate, turned today to a bill to cut down on the maximum size weight of parcel post packages. The Senate has already passed that one.

1. Gordon Dean has told the House Appropriations Committee that "the beginning of an atomic (powered) air force within a decade" is a probability.

Dean made the prediction at a recent closed committee hearing. The testimony was made public last night.

Hear Series, Football Games in Foxholes

WITH U. S. 24TH DIVISION, KOREA, Oct. 8—(AP)—American soldiers in their frontline foxholes today heard condensed rebroadcasts of the first three World Series baseball games and the Michigan State-Ohio State football game.

Recorded sections of the games were broadcast over loudspeakers from a point just behind the front line. The broadcast lasted about one hour.

Previously the loudspeakers were used by psychological warfare teams in urging Communist troops to surrender.

Agrees To Red Offer In Principle

Liaison Teams Will Discuss Location In Panmunjom Area

TOKYO, Oct. 8 — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway tonight accepted in principle the Communist proposal that Korean cease-fire talks begin anew near Panmunjom.

The supreme Allied commander said a site in the "immediate vicinity" of the Red outpost, six miles southeast of Kaesong, would meet the "fundamental condition of equality of movement and control." The Reds broke off the talks at Kaesong Aug. 23.

Ridgway told the top Communist commanders in Korea he was instructing his liaison officers to meet Red liaison officers at 10 a. m. Wednesday (8 p m. Tuesday, E.S.T.) to hammer out details for re-opening talks.

Presumably the liaison meeting will be held in Panmunjom, as were most of its predecessors.

Ridgway answered a Red note received Sunday. In it the Reds proposed:

1. The truce talks be shifted to Panmunjom.

2. The Kaesong five-mile neutral zone be extended to include Munsan, site of the U N. command advance headquarters, about 15 miles away.

3. Both sides to assume responsibility for controlling the conference site—in effect to establish joint armed control.

Ridgway View

"It is my view," Ridgway said, "that all that is necessary is a small neutral zone around the new conference site, with Kaesong, Munsan and the road to Panmunjom from Kaesong and Munsan free from attack."

His message may mean that Allied troops are in the area the Reds want cleared and Ridgway does not want to pull them out.

He said it was essential that any new site be located approximately halfway between the Allied and Communist front lines.

"Only so," his message said, "can each side be expected to discharge its share of responsibility for the security of the approaches to the conference site and of the site itself."

The message was addressed to Kim Il Sung, North Korean premier, and Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander of Chinese Communist forces in North Korea.

Ridgway opened his reply with the statement: "(1) again categorically state that the responsibility for the delay in negotiations during the past several weeks is yours."

The exchange of messages leaves the two sides about one mile apart on the negotiation front but drawing closer.

Ridgway had proposed that talks be resumed near Songhyon, about a mile from Panmunjom. He may still be holding out for that war-battered village in his reference to "the immediate vicinity of Panmunjom."

Bitter Fighting Slows Allied Drive in Korea

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 8—(AP)—A thin line of dog-tired American infantrymen today edged toward the top of the last Red-held peak on craggy Heartbreak Ridge in eastern Korea.

Last reports put them within 200 yards of the summit. Communist grenades and machinegun fire poured down from Red bunkers above as the troops of the U. S. Second Division's 23rd Regiment fought forward foot by foot and bunker by bunker.

Across the Mundung valley to the west the Ninth Regiment of the Second Division fought fiercely-resisting North Koreans for possession of Kim Il Sung ridge, named by the Reds for the North Korean premier. A pooled dispatch from the front said the doughboys took several small hills. Their progress toward the ridge itself was slowed by Communist artillery and small arms fire.

Allied tanks roared into Satae east of Heartbreak for the third straight day. They opened point-blank fire on the Reds but received heavy artillery fire in return.

Veterans and Draftees Guide — By Major Thomas M. Nial

Don't ever say Major Nial told you absolutely you should buy insurance. I'm always careful to say you should "consider" buying it. Whether you need any at all, what kind and how much always depends on your personal family and financial situation.

Today I'm out to tell you that you should "consider" buying a new-fangled veterans insurance now available for men getting out of service. This does not apply to you if you are already fully covered with $10,000 of NSLI or if you have been out of service for more than 120 days.

As you may know, the recent Servicemen's Indemnity Act cut off the sale of any new NSLI, though lapsed NSLI policies could be reinstated if their terms had not expired.

The free indemnity coverage which that act gives men on active duty runs only until 120 days after their date of separation. During that 120-day period non-disabled vets have a chance to take out this new kind of vets insurance, similar in many ways to NSLI, though NOT entirely. (Disabled vets can get still another kind of insurance, even more similar to NSLI.)

* * *

IF YOU'RE recently discharged and don't have $10,000 of NSLI, talk to the VA about this post-service insurance before your 120-day period runs out.

The only kind of this new insurance you can get is on the five-year level premium term plan. That is, you pay a certain premium for a terms of five years. At the end of that time the policy expires, unless you renew it for another five years. When you renew, you start paying higher premiums, based on your age at that time. That's because you'll be older and NOT such a good risk.

You may not convert the policy to permanent insurance as NSLI policyholders may do. It will not have any "guaranteed values" — cash, loan, paid-up insurance or extended insurance.

Premiums will be lower than NSLI term premiums for the same age. For example, for each $1,000 of insurance at age 20 you'd pay 65 cents a month for term NSLI, 21 cents a month for the new post-service insurance. At ago 25 it would be 67 cents for NSLI, 26 cents for the new type insurance.

* * *

HOWEVER, "THE COST" of the new insurance will probably be higher than that of term NSLI. Why? Because of dividends.

The new post-service insurance pays NO dividends, the latest NSLI dividend, covering the years 1948-1951, is 50 cents per $1,000 per month for term policies taken out at age 40 and under. So for that three year period the "net cost" of an NSLI policy has been only 15 cents at age of 20, 17 cents at age 25.

Like NSLI—but unlike the free indemnity while you're on active duty — you may name any one you jolly well please as beneficiary of your new type vets insurance policy.

Also like NSLI, you have four different ways to have the policy settled. These include a lump-sum payment to the beneficiary, payments for a specified number of years or payments in two ways for the lifetime of the beneficiary

You need take no medical exam. Just fill in an application at any VA office and pay the first premium. But you must do it before the 120-day post-discharge period is over.

* * *

(You may write Major Nial care of this newspaper about your own service-connected problem, but please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope).

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

THERE'S a frightening lack of energy at our most vital and newest atomic sites.

Even as the news of a second Soviet A-bomb blast is flashed, I learn from harassed strategists at the Atomic Energy Commission that a long series of flash strikes, in relays, has delayed for months completion of secret installations swiftly needed for mass production of tougher A-bombs and the practically unmentionable H-Thing.

Almost 17,000 man days have been lost in these walkouts on just three key projects in less than nine months —including the tiny one at Dana, Ind., which is to pour out chemicals so secret that their relation to the H-bomb cannot be discussed in any terms.

Victor Riesel

These unions struck although A.F.L. prexy William Green was bluntly told by the Atomic Commission that "delay in completion of these new production facilities will adversely affect the program as a whole and will disrupt national defense production schedules established by the President of the U. S."

So swift were these relay strikes that during a two-week stretch in mid-September, there was just one solitary day when everybody worked. Every other day some union or other had a picket line up which was respected by the others. Result: no progress in any sector of the installation or the two huge power stations being created to feed the unit with the tremendous amount of juice necessary to turn out fissionable uranium 235.

* * *

IF A UNION didn't string a picket line around the Paducah (Ky.) uranium unit, or around the TVA electric power plant there, or around the Ebasco Services, Ltd., power project across the river at Joppa, Ill.—unidentified picket lines appeared. No union would take responsibility for them. But no union men would cross them. That occurred on Sept. 19, it can now be reported.

This actually is the third week during which there has been at least one strike, on one of the three projects at least once a day. One union strikes quickly, goes back to work when the screaming starts in Washington, and the next morning another is out.

Here's the unreleased strike schedule:

On Sept. 17, the engineers struck the Paducah uranium unit. Came the thunder out of Washington and they returned. But the next morning they struck the TVA electric power plant under construction.

Came the dawn of the 19th, they returned to work at TVA—so the sheet metal workers struck on the 20th and stayed out for three days. Sept. 23 was a Sunday. There was uneasiness on Monday the 24th—and on the 25th the engineers struck again. They were out until the 27th. Then they returned. The iron workers struck. These returned on the 29th. So the teamsters struck. They returned. So the laborers' union struck the Ebasco power project (Ebasco Services, Ltd., is the construction unit for Electric Energy, Inc., a private firm).

IT MUST BE understood that a strike of any of these three units—the uranium fission plant, the TVA site and the Ebasco enterprise — cripples the project's progress. Completion of the uranium building would be useless unless the other two power stations were ready to pump juice into it.

Now, no federal agency denies these unions the right to strike. Certainly not the AEC which sent long telegrams to all sides in the disputes. But what are the disputes? From any point of view they can't be so all-motivating now. Furthermore, they'll bring the public's wrath down on all labor. Let's look at the issues:

In only one strike was a real wage increase involved. That was the one the sheet metal workers pulled. Once the operating engineers struck because Ebasco fired a man it said was drunk on the job.

At another time, they walked out of the atomic project in protest against their union brothers being assigned to watch over millwrights. The truck drivers struck in sympathy. Ironworkers quit in protest against being laid off the previous day with full pay. Pipe fitters knocked off to fight for back payment of travel pay. So it goes.

If this were work on new office buildings, it would all be a private fight. But we may not have some of our office buildings standing, if we don't get those A-projects up first and fast.

Plan Campaign To Assist Recruiters

A publicity campaign to assist the U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station in obtaining enlistments was discussed at a meeting of the Marion Military Manpower Committee Wednesday night at the Organized Reserve Corps office.

Stalin Bluffing?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

WILL the Allies employ atom bombs to shorten the war in Korea?

What is behind Joe Stalin's announcement that the Russians have exploded a test atom bomb but they don't plan to use it against the United States?

To get the answer to these timely questions I went to call on my old friend, Col. Amos Frothing, U. S. A. (retired). The colonel is a frosty old cavalry officer—completely imaginary—who says he quit the Army in 1909 because the administration of President William Howard Taft was so peaceful it made him nervous.

Hal Boyle

As usual I found the old boy poring over antique war maps in his study with a glass of bourbon in his hand.

"Gad," he said, shuddering, "that General Grant was a slipshod character. With three more horses—and my advice—Bob Lee could have chased him from Appomattox clear through Abe Lincoln's bedroom in the White House."

SOMETIMES IT IS hard to dig Col. Frothing out of past battles. He doesn't hold Napoleon's errors against him, but he feels that whoever promoted Bonaparte from corporal to sergeant made a big historical mistake.

"I see you have a problem, Junior," he greeted me, as I tossed him a snappy Boy Scout salute.

"Sir," I said, "You will recall I interviewed you two years ago, and you said then that the atom bomb was an ideal tactical weapon to use against enemy ground troops if Russia invaded Europe."

"Indeed I do, Junior," he replied. "Up until then the commentators had spoken of the atom bomb was an ideal tactical weapon. That was nonsense. Any strategic weapon can be employed tactically—and should be if necessary.

"Only a stratified military brain thinks otherwise. There are occasions when it might be wise to use a shotgun to kill a horsefly."

I asked the colonel what about the situation in Korea.

"We are in a stalemate there," he said, "and I see no end to that stalemate as long as we depend upon ordinary airpower and mass infantry and armored attacks. We have to pull a bigger trigger."

"Such as, sir?"

"WELL, JUNIOR, I believe we could do it either with gas or with atom bombs. Many people regard these weapons as immoral. But if you believe in what you are fighting for, there is no immorality greater than defeat."

"If we have as many atom bombs as the statesmen hint, sir," I said, "we ought to be able to pitch them around in Korea like baseballs. Why haven't we?"

"One reason is that the military mind is even more cautious than the civilian mind," explained the colonel. "I myself believe that if we start throwing atom bombs in Korea we'll quickly whip the Chinese.

"But that atom bomb is our ace-in-the-hole. If we do toss 'em and the Chinese don't quit,—well, Junior, we're going to have some mighty surprised faces. And our European friends are going to wonder just how much help and protection we really can give them.

"It's a gamble But so is everything in war and politics and peace, Junior."

"What if we use atom bombs in Korea, and Russia gives the Chinese a few atom bombs to throw at our troops, there, sir?" I asked.

"That would automatically start the Third World War," said Col. Frothing sternly. "And I don't think Joe Stalin is that big a fool. He's bluffing."

Welcome Relief

By Inez Robb

ON A TRAIN IN INDIANA

FROM the train window the whole land looks golden. The sunshine is hot and pure gold, for real—not Indian—summer is having her last fling here.

The maples in the woodlots manage to be gold and scarlet and green at the same time. The woodlots, some large, some small, are engulfed in golden corn. Here and there the shocked corn stands in rows of golden tepees. But most of the corn still stands in the fields like a vast sea of dull metal.

Inez Robb

Sometimes the soya beans take over and carpet the land with green gold. Little streams, all looking as romantic as the Wabash, meander through the autumn fields and reflect the cottonwoods whose leaves are bullion.

The barns look big as cathedrals and are crammed with a golden harvest. The train races through the American heartland and a king's ransom lies on each side of the tracks. In this world, the tracks have no wrong side.

A WORLD OF PLENTY rolls away to the horizon in every direction. It all looks so rich and golden and peaceful. Even the plowed fields look black and opulent in the October sun. And the little towns are sparkling with fresh paint and somnolent in the sun.

Better to feast the eyes on the land and forget the weekly news magazine in the luggage. There is something good and golden about this land and there is nothing good about the weekly news magazine and its sickening summaries of graft and corruption throughout the nation.

A man has to have a strong stomach to read the news of this land where the Reconstruction Finance Corp. is a private mining operation for the politically hep; where a segment of the police force of its largest city is working annex of thugs and hoodlums, and where a grand jury in Cook County, Ill., returns indictments not against the bums who foment its latest race riot but against the champions of the victim.

PERHAPS THE LAND is rich enough to do without public and private morals and ethical standards. It looks very rich this autumn day. Perhaps it is so rich it doesn't need to require responsibility and honesty in either its people or its politicians. Perhaps the land is so rich it can afford to nod at politicians in the public trough and private citizens who buy police.

This is the richest land in all the history of the world, and the proof is just beyond this train window. For interspersed with the rich farms are the visible signs of the nation's industrial might and know-how. New industrial plants have sprung up in the corn fields beyond the towns and villages and along the tracks.

"Dispersal for World War III," the man across the table in the diner said at lunch time today. "So if they hit Dayton or Detroit or Cleveland or Pittsburgh, there'll be something left.""

But the land looks as peaceful as it is golden. The sumac is brilliant red as it half covers the old barb-wire fence along the railroad right of way. That's what barb-wire is for in the heartland; for sumac and to keep cows off the track. Barb-wire as a barricade, as a trip for light armored vehicles, makes no sense out here.

BUT PRESIDENT TRUMAN says the Russians have exploded an atom bomb. Two years ago, he simply said there had been an atomic explosion in the U.S.S.R. But this time the Russians must have the real McCoy; anyway, the President said the word "bomb."

Well, it takes a strong stomach to read the newspapers, too, with the Russians in the big bomb league, the armistice talks in Korea scarce more than a farce and the Middle East boiling like a cauldron.

But beyond the window, the land is pure gold and we've taken it for granted for so long. So ten minutes ago the crowd in the club car told George to turn off that dull jerk talking Civil Defense on the radio, turn on the World Series, and make it snappy.

Seek To Recruit 10 Million Protestants

United Church Men Of America Organized

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8—(AP)—A new, determined laymen's group— bid godspeed by President Truman—fanned out today to recruit Protestants of all denominations into active church service.

The organization, United Church Men of America, envisages an ultimate enlistment of 10,000,000 rank-and-file church men. It has mapped out plans for mass rallies in 18 key cities in 1952 to arouse the interest of men in each community and make clear to them the reasons their help is needed in developing church programs.

The cities are: Atlanta, Boston, Buffalo, Dallas, Denver, Grand Rapids Mich; Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Oklahoma City, Peoria, Ill, Pittsburgh, Portland, Ore, Providence, R. I., San Francisco, Seattle, St. Louis and Washington

Heads Group

Lem T. Jones, chairman of United Church Men, said the group's aim is to make active the "75 percent of church laymen who are not now active

The U.C.M. plans call for allout effort to raise the standards of service by laymen in their local churches and the initiation of community projects for the promotion of laymen in all denominations.

Jones, a candy manufacturer in Kansas City in private life and a Presbyterian, was installed as chairman last night in ceremonies conducted by Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A, and Dr. Herman N. Morse, vice president of the council.

Laymen's Dept.

The national council is an interdenominational body composed of 29 Protestant and eastern orthodox communions with about 31,000,000 members.

The U C M is to be the laymen's department of the national council.

Among those named as members-at-large of the church men's board of managers were statesman John Foster Dulles, economic stabilizer Charles E. Wilson, and Walter H. Judd, Republican conressman from Minnesota and former medical missionary in China.

Vogeler To Speak Nov. 5 In Delaware

Businessman Held By Reds on O.W.U. Lecture Program

DELAWARE, Oct. 8 — Robert Vogeler, the American businessman who recently was released from imprisonment behind the "Iron Curtain," has been engaged to appear on the Ohio Wesleyan University lecture-movie series Nov. 5.

Vogeler will stop here on his nationwide tour to tell of the year-and-a-half nightmare he lived as a prisoner of the communists. His talk is entitled, "17 Months of Despair."

The first speaker on the Ohio Wesleyan series will be author-actress Cornelia Otis Skinner, who will entertain a Homecoming audience at 9 30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19, in Gray Chapel.

The lecture schedule also includes Elizabeth Bowmen, English novelist, Nov. 30, James Michener, Pulitzer prize winner, March 7; and Margaret Mead, anthropologist, April 11.

According to the lecture-movie series committee, there is a good possibility that the nationally famous radio program, Town Meeting of the Air, will broadcast from Gray chapel April 15, to round out the lecture program.

"Major Barbara," by George Bernard Shaw, will be the first film to be shown on the movie side of the lecture-movie series. It is scheduled for 7 and 9 p m., Oct. 12 in Gray chapel.

Other movies are "I know Where I'm Going," Nov. 16; "Dios se lo Paque," Jan. 4; "The Eternal Return," May 2; and Nicholas Nickleby," May 16.

This Is Not Confidential

HARRY TRUMAN now has added publishing to the list of things he knows more about than the people who have worked at it all their lives.

This cosmic expertness is one of the afflictions of Presidents. In no more time than it takes to count the electoral votes they presume the right to speak the last word on business enterprise, farming, publishing, even music criticism. It is their way of getting even because everybody assumes the right to tell politicians how to run their business, which is in fact the people's business, by right of popular sovereignty.

Mr. Truman fumbled on Sept. 25 when he issued his order for uniform security standards throughout the executive branch of the government.

He fumbled because he thereby encouraged every furtive bureaucrat on the executive payroll to hide his own and his fellow workers' mistakes, along with documents which actually contained confidential information. In a matter of a few hours this possibility materialized in a hush-hush edict from the office of price stabilization, in a form so crude that Mr. Truman, be it to his credit, acknowledged it as a gross error of judgment.

The President hates to admit he's wrong. All of us do. He now has compounded his original fumble by statements in a press conference which give his fellow Americans in the publishing business no choice but to conclude he simply does not know what he is doing in this complex matter of security.

He has said that government agencies may give out information which never should be published and that the decision not to publish it then rests with publishers as a patriotic duty. And to make sure no tempers are left unruffled, Mr. Truman has insinuated that publishers lack something in their patriotism for making it necessary for him to point this out.

There are times when it is plain that most of the trouble Mr. Truman has been having in his administration can be blamed on the unsureness of his touch. This is one of them. It is evident that he has jumped to a number of absurd conclusions from an equal number of wobby premises.

Mr. Truman is more to be pitied than censured. But he makes pity a hard feeling to come by honestly when he, himself, censures those in possession of enough humility to admit they don't know everything.

A New "Queen of Battle"

GORDON DEAN, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, is so obviously trying to tell his countrymen and the Russian militarists, if the militarists don't already know it, that the United States is ready to use atomic energy in a tactical basis that all of us had better listen closely.

"Tactical basis" could mean only one thing—that atomic energy is to be used in direct warfare in the same way that a foot soldier uses a gun. Atomic energy is no longer a purely "strategic" weapon, meaning the kind used to knock out a power plant or a key factory.

There is theoretically a new "queen of battle," to supplant the historic role played by infantrymen in hand-to-hand fighting on the ground. That is what Chairman Dean is trying to say.

If he knows what he is saying—and there is no reason to doubt that he does know—the United States is now ready to apply nuclear fission for the second time in a little more than six years to the problem of settling a military issue. The first time, the application was in the form of atomic bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The second time, the application would be in the form of some kind of new battle weapon designed to defeat the forces threatening the sovereignty of the Republic of Korea.

Democracy, the Sum of Its Parts

WILLIAM HENRY CHAMBERLAIN has undertaken for the Wall Street Journal a discussion of the weaknesses of democracy. His enterprise is tackled in the spirit of Winston Churchill's paradox—that democracy is the worst form of government, except for all the others.

What Chamberlain finds chiefly to be true about the weaknesses of democracy is that they spring from the weaknesses of its citizens. "A perfect democracy," he concludes, "would be a society in which all or the great majority of citizens were alert, responsible and well informed. It is doubtful whether this condition has been realized, in the United States or in any other country. Our knowledge has been multiplied; but there is little proof that our wisdom is greater than that of our forefathers. Our technology has achieved wonders; but our moral progress has lagged far behind science and invention."

Science and invention made their progress because democracy unleashed the capabilities of millions of individuals. Democracy is, in other words, the sum of all its parts. That is the strength. It also becomes its weakness when, as Mr. Chamberlain points out, there is a lag in moral progress.

Truman Censorship

By David Lawrence

"Iron Curtain" Against News Under Attack

PRESIDENT TRUMAN was certainly right about one thing in his controversial conference with the press on the subject of censorship—it always has been and always will be the duty of the newspapers and periodicals to refrain from publishing data that could be useful to the enemy.

This is what is called "voluntary censorship." It operated successfully during World War I and World War II. But, unfortunately, that is not the real issue that has arisen over Mr. Truman's "iron curtain" order. What the President has failed to do is to set forth, through consultation with the representatives of the newspapers, periodicals and radio, the specific categories of tabooed news of a military nature so as to guide the press. This is very readily accomplished, but for some strange reason Mr. Truman and his staff spurned all idea of cooperation on the accustomed basis that has prevailed in the past.

LAWRENCE

The origin of the order which Mr. Truman has been persuaded to sign undoubtedly was in military quarters. If the military bureaucrats' viewpoint were always accepted, the American press would have to suppress 95 percent of the news that normally comes out of the government, and the morale of the nation would suffer accordingly. It's not a new problem. Mr. Truman has simply been caught in one of the oldest traps that bureaucracy has ever fashioned. President Wilson resisted it and so did President Franklin Roosevelt.

* * *

WHEN MR. TRUMAN told his press conference that the reason all other bureaus and departments—including, of course, the civil agencies which haven't anything to do with defense—had to be covered by the executive order was that they sometimes were given copies of important data concerning military matters, he was using an official excuse that has been offered hereabouts for 40 years. It is not a justification for the blanketing of all agencies from the RFC to the fish and wildlife service.

Stung by the criticism that has arisen, the President veers away from the use of the order on nonmilitary matters and applies his customary political demagoguery and sarcasm to the discussion. One would think from listening to him that the press wanted to aid the enemy and had less regard for the safety of the United States than he has. That's not the way to bring about cooperation between the press and the government.

So far as maps of various cities are concerned which the enemy can use for bombing, these can be bought or obtained free at the gasoline stations of the United States or in the souvenir booklets in tourist agencies and bazaars throughout the country. Also, if the Russians haven't bought all the maps our own government has been selling for years, they are more stupid than anybody thinks.

* * *

IT IS NOTHING short of tragic that a President of the United States should stand up before a group of intelligent newspapermen and try to tell them, in effect, that what he wants is security for America and what they want is to give aid and comfort to the enemy.

Unless the President is ready to take advice from persons experienced in the field of voluntary censorship — there are many among his friends who served in wartime and who could give him the right information—the net result is going to be an increasing suspicion that the real secrets Mr. Truman is anxious to suppress are those which now are coming out of congressional committees, revealing graft and corruption in some of the bureaus of his Administration handling public funds.

The "iron curtain" order is wrong because it is European and not American. It centralizes the whole business of suppression in politically appointed officials. It makes no provision for a check or review of disinterested individuals of the information now to be officially suppressed. And, what is even more disturbing, it puts into effect a rule of fear and intimidation throughout all civil agencies and departments, so that objective-minded officials will not dare to issue information to which the public is entitled without clearing it with the headquarters of the Administration to determine whether it is politically embarrassing.

The situation could be easily cleared up—and certainly Congress is asleep at the switch if it permits Nazi and Communist methods of news suppression to take hold inside the government of the United States under the guise of a military emergency.

Only Lukewarm

By TRUMAN TWILL

FELLOW NAMED Hal Boyle, the war correspondent and columnist, was moaning the other day because it's impossible to get a decent cup of tea in a restaurant—and blaming waitresses for not using boiling water.

It would take more than boiling water to improve restaurant tea. The jokers who make the tea bags would have to use better grades of cheesecloth, metal staples, string and cardboard. Maybe the tea they're using is all right; it cannot be tasted after all that other goop has been brewed with it.

But even with better equipment, Boyle's cup of tea still would taste like tepid ditchwater unless he quit depending on women to fix it for him. This is going to be about a characteristic of cookery as performed by run-of-mine females, so all run-of-mine female readers had better go look at television for the next few minutes.

Your run-of-mill female cook is addicted to limp lettuce, lukewarm water, tasteless meat and soggy vegetables. She will scamp on the ingredients of whatever she is preparing 99 times out of 100. She will hold back on the coffee and she will hold back on the tea. She is afraid of strength.

Single-handed, she has made home cooking a synonym for mediocrity in the U.S.A. She has made a fetish of blandness and premasticated junk which may nourish the body after a fashion but starves the soul. She is more interested in putting flowers on the center of the table than in putting solid sustenance around the edges.

Her culinary shortcomings have created the vacuum into which the vitamin industry has rushed, in the fale hope of saving the nation from malnutrition and peptic ulcers. Required by social circumstances to take over the responsibility for feeding her family, she takes up the task with even less competence than she brings to the task of raising the family—her other basic job under existing social arrangements.

To this day, after a generation of big talk about what women could do if they had a chance, not one of them can cook well enough to hold down a major job in a big eatery. Women have no aptitude for preparing food, despite endless bathos about what "Mother used to make." The only reason it tasted good, evidently, was because the people who used to rely on Mother at meal times were so hungry that anything tasted good.

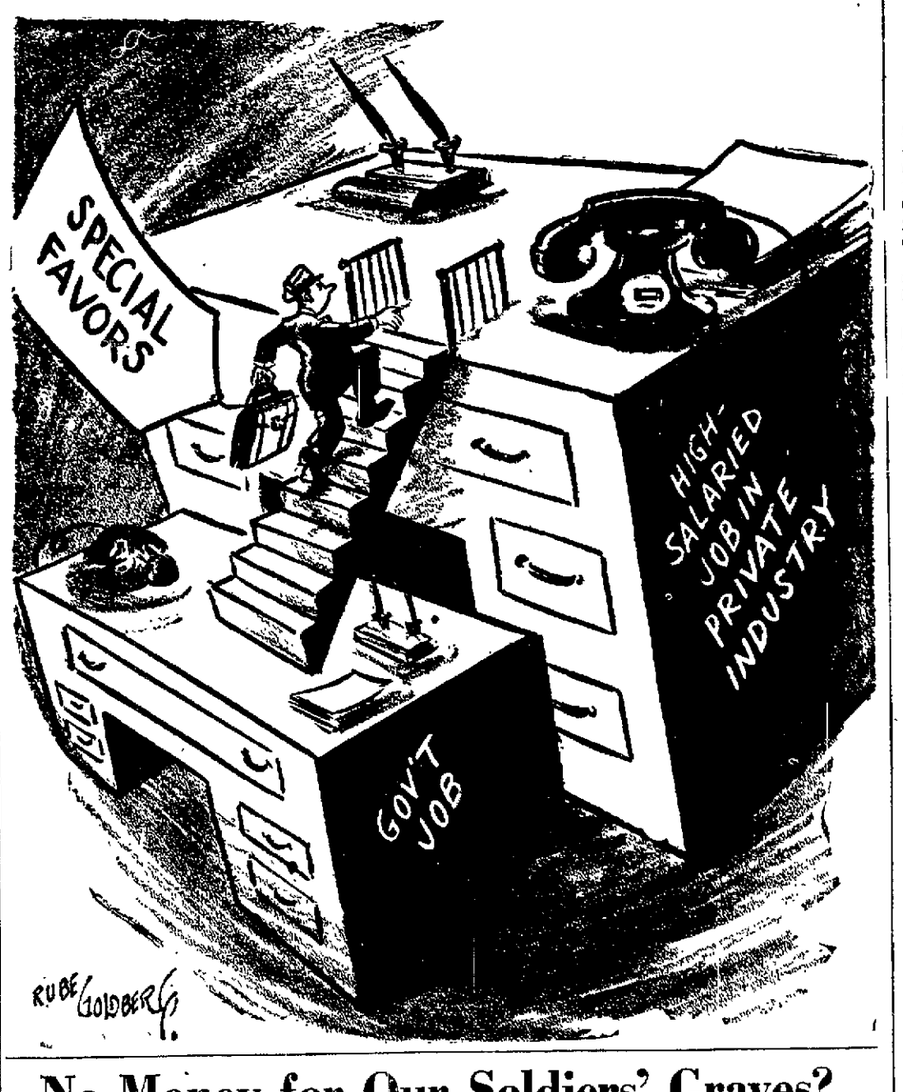
That, Friend Boyle, is what you are up against if you expect to get a potable cup of tea from the hands of womankind. You are not speaking the same language. If you want to slurp up the kind of tea that would make your tired eyes sparkle, you will have to make it yourself, which means you will have to get your own tea, your own boiling water and your own cup and fixings, because if you so much as mention aloud that women don't understand how to do these things properly they will gang up on you.

Please note, in closing, that this is in no way a reflection on Mrs. Boyle or the missus of the present writer, who are both fabulously skilled operators in the kitchen and had better stay that way because they will be in the kitchen as long as their boy friends are in the newspaper business.

CROSSTOWN — By Roland Coe

"You mean all that junk we picked up on our trip? Why don't you just take the folks up to the attic to see it?"

Short Cut to Success



No Money for Our Soldiers' Graves?

By George E. Sokolsky

SHOCKING! ONLY this word can describe the attitude of a government that paints potatoes blue to make them unpalatable and that wastes billions of dollars at the turn of the wrist but removes the crosses over the graves of dead soldiers in Hawaii because the cost of maintaining them is too high in that climate. And it is not only crosses but Stars of David as well. Of this, Cardinal Spellman said:

SOKOLSKY

"I deplore the action, and the motive given was despicable.

"If the government cannot supply money for their maintenance, I am sure that the Catholic people of New York will. And they will be joined by Protestants and Jews as well."

Similarly, only last month, President Truman decided to permit the word "Korea" to be placed in Arlington gravestones. As Eugene R. Guild, captain, U. S. A. retired, who lost a son in Korea, wrote the President:

"The authorized single word 'Korea'—merely geographic, not historic—is still an evasion, a weasel word which dodges the issue and attempts to preserve the original deceit that the Korean war is not a war. It is still like your ruling appeasing the Reds on the Arlington gravestones of our five fliers shot down over Yugoslavia.

"A soldier's grave has, until your stewardship, been the one inviolable page of history from which later generations could read the truth. Who tampers with it destroys its integrity My son was killed by battlefield appeasement; must I now take him from Arlington's once hallowed ground, lest the Reds be offended, it is to be again fouled by graveyard appeasement?"

* * *

APPARENTLY, AT one stage of this desecration, the gravestones of soldiers killed in the Korean war were marked "World War II", which, of course, was a factual, historical and legal falsehood. Parents who protested were informed that they could, at their own expense, substitute the word "Korea" on the back or bottom of the stone

On Sept. 20 the Defense Department stopped haggling over the dead and authorized the use of the word "Korea" on gravestones, but no American soldier may be honored by having it appear over his final resting place that he gave his life for his country in the Korean war.

The absurdity of it all comes from the twisted concept of this Korean war as a police action. Our troops who storm hills against enemy shells are not soldiers but cops. They are not fighting for their own country but for a nebulous entity called the United Nations of which the principal enemy, Soviet Russia, is a member.

Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to do and die . . .

But we can reason why and can protest against this legalistic mechanism by which American soldiers fight without American benefits. Few realize that the G. I. Bill of Rights and other benefits granted American fighting men as a token of the gratitude of our people for their lost years and lost lives are withheld from American fighters in Korea because they are not at war.

* * *

WHAT ARE they doing there? Why will they have to spend another winter in that barren country if we are not at war? Why must so many of them be wounded and maimed? Why must they die?

It is time for the Congress of the United States to take the decision in this matter. Constitutionally, it is theirs to take. Congress can pass a blanket measure granting to American soldiers in Korea the rights and benefits to which they are entitled, including a fitting marker on their gravestones.

Congress might also inquire into the Defense Department's decisions as to the status of Americans in Eisenhower's NATO army. Are these soldiers Americans or are they NATOES? Are they being treated as the United States has treated its troops in the past two wars or are they being reduced to a European level? Do they receive the benefits of a G.I. Bill of Rights or are they to be forgotten men? How are their graves to be marked when they are killed? Will they too be included in the category, World War II, because no one in the Pentagon has sufficient imagination to realize that men fighting today may be ashamed of the appeasement of Soviet Russia in World War II and hope that they can correct the mistakes of their elders?

Shall it be said of us that we have grown so hopelessly blase that we care little or nothing about our own sons, even those who die for our country?

Congress Quiz

Q—Is there a limit on how long Congress can meet?

A—No. Congress can stay in session from one year to the next, And in the past decade it often has done nearly that. However, in an effort to speed up its work, Congress agreed in 1946 to wind up each session by July 31, except during a national emergency. It never has carried out this plan.

* * *

Q—Now that senators have investigated servicemen's housing near large military posts, what do they propose to do about it?

A—The Senate preparedness subcommittee in its Sept. 23 report on housing near 16 camps said local communities must provide the final solution for what it called "shameful profiteering."

* * *

Q—Will the Senate do any more crime investigating now that its special crime committee is no longer in existence?

A—It is considering firing up the probe again. Senator Homer E. Capehart (R) of Indiana, Sept. 12 introduced a bill to give $150,000 to the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee so it can go on with the investigation. But some Democrats were cool to this G.O.P. move, and urged, instead, that the Senate concentrate on passing the anti-crime bills recommended by Kefauver-O'Connor group which expired Aug. 31.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The custom of attorneys from other counties appearing in court in Marion County was a practice of the pioneer days. One of these was Thomas W. Powell of Delaware, a native of South Whales, where he was born in 1797. He came to this country with his parents in 1801. Admitted to practice in 1820 he located at Delaware 10 years later. He built the Mansion House in Delaware which afterwards became the first home of Ohio Wesleyan University.

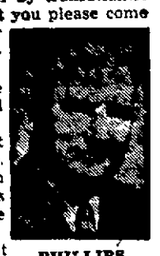
The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

October Interview

The Man Without Any Interest in the World Series was concentrating as usual on world events and striving to get the lowdown on major matters. He got Ike Eisenhower by transatlantic phone and pleaded, "Ike, won't you please come out and state frankly whether you would run for the Presidency?"



PHILLIPS

"Everything depends on the next pitch," said the general bluntly. "Who's on second?"

The Man hung up and got hold of President Truman. "Harry, is the situation with regard to Iran as disastrous as it seems? Should Abadan have been left that way?"

"There were two on base. It would have taken a hit to have brought Abadan in. The next man fanned. So he had to be left that way," said the President. "What inning is this?"

* * *

The Man Without a Series Interest terminated the talk and managed to get Harold Stassen on the wire.

"Mr. Stassen," he asked, "are you quite sure Jessup and Lattimore took the position you say they took in that crucial conference?"

"Jessup? Lattimore? I don't see those names on my scorecard," said Mr. Stassen "Please hang up. This looks like a terrific rally. Casey is pretty smart."

As The Man Without a Series Interest rushed into the street, he bumped into Rudolph Halley, famous Senate Crime Committee counsel, now tossing his hat into the New York political ring.

"I beg pardon, Mr. Halley, but I am gravely troubled by the crime wave," he said.

"Me, too," said Mr. Halley. "Well, they had the hitting today. Tomorrow may be another story."

"I fear you misunderstand," said the Man. "I am concerned with the general picture of mobster operations and what can be done to stop them before things get worse."

"I don't know that I'd call 'em mobsters. It was a rough game all the way, with plenty of rough stuff on both sides. As for stopping them, it will take top pitching, that's all. If those boys can connect with the ball it's always murder," was the reply.

"What do you really think should be done about Costello?" the Man pressed.

"Let's see. He's the one who came up right after Rizzuto got on base, isn't he?" replied Mr. Halley.

* * *

The Man Without a Series Interest groaned and turned into another street where, by chance, he bumped into Foster Dulles and Ernest Gross of U.N.

"Oh, Mr. Dulles," he cried. "Do you think Mossadegh will really put in an appearance here?"

"If the Yanks need him they will send him in, but they look strong without him," answered Mr. Dulles.

"Ernie, tell me, please, do you believe the situation at this point is explosive and that a general war would follow?" asked the Man, collaring Mr. Gross.

"In a short series like this the situation is always explosive," replied Mr. Gross, who was fanning himself with a scorecard. "The umpires can prevent a general war if they act more firmly and take no lip from anybody. I thought some of the base running was sloppy."

The Man Without a Series Interest saw an open manhole and jumped into it, yelling, "Peron up! . . . McCarthy at first! . . . Gabrielson on third! . . . Make mine an all-hot with a dash of Fulbright. . . . And a cup of Omar Bradley! . . . Break up the Yanks!"

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

Among other things, autumn's crisp sparkle means that it's time to prepare for the hungry hordes by stocking your files with recipes of tasty sturdy foods for the cool days ahead. Way up in front should be this gumbo with rice—a steaming luscious mixture of chicken and ham with tomatoes, onions and okra that will set a new record in goodness when it's served.

New Help for Ulcer Ruptures

Rupture is one of the most dread complications of peptic ulcer.

When an ulcer eats its way through the wall of the stomach or intestine, the event is heralded by a sudden sharp and severe pain the abdomen. This is followed in rapid succession by a board-like stiffness of the abdominal muscles, great tenderness, fever, and evidence of serious infection.

Until recently, the only possibility for treatment lay in surgical closure of the rupture in the stomach or duodenum wall, and even this was not without its dangers. Today, due to the potency of the new miracle drugs in combating peritonitis, it has been possible to explore non-operative methods of treatment.

Recently, sixteen cases were treated at the Mayo Clinic without operation. All recovered and only one developed any serious complications.

This new method consists of inserting a tube into the stomach and connecting it to a suction apparatus. In this way, the stomach contents are removed and the stomach is kept at rest. These patients require the care of an experienced nurse to check the suction apparatus every half hour to see if it is working.

Large doses of sulfadiazine are given by injection into a vein immediately upon making the diagnosis, and thereafter every four hours. Fifty to one hundred thousand units of penicillin are injected into a muscle every three hours.

Absolutely nothing is given by mouth. Fluids and nutrition are maintained by giving injections into a vein. Large doses of vitamins, especially thiamine and ascorbic acid, are given daily by injection.

On the fourth to the sixth day, the patient is given milk and cream mixtures by mouth. These mixtures are given cautiously, and are stopped if there is any evidence that the hole in the stomach wall has not healed. The diet is then gradually increased and, after ten days to four weeks, the patient is usually ready for discharge from the hospital.

By not performing surgery most of the complications of ruptured peptic ulcer can be eliminated. There are no complications due to anesthesia; there are no wound infections or hemorrhage in this type of treatment.

V. D.: I thoroughly wet my hair every day. I have done this for years. Is there any reason why I should not do this?

Answer: It has been found that there is no harm in wetting the hair daily. However, a wet scalp may attract more dirt than a dry one.

NEW YORK

A LADY will soon be able to wash her woolen suits and dresses!

Jacques LeSur, famed French coutourier, today reports he has invented a new pure wool fabric with the texture of fine serge, which can be doused in suds like handkerchief linen.

The wool, called "twile canot" (which means, literally, fabric boat), will be introduced in next spring's collection.

It is made with a secret process by which the wool yarn is chemically treated before weaving to make it washable, shrink-proof and color-fast.

LeSur, who also invented the fabulous new fabric, "poodle cloth," says it will be available in ready to wear and yard goods by early spring.

Like all fashion innovations, it will be costly during its initial season. Exact prices are not as yet set.

Plans for programs for the next five months, through March, 1952, were made at a meeting of the Marion Power Shovel Co Foremen's Club Saturday night in the Hotel Harding ballroom. About 50 members were present.

Clifford Ward, chairman of the program committee, announced that Dr. Warren Hickman of Ohio Northern University will be the speaker at the next meeting, Nov. 3.

E. B. Trotter of Columbus, secretary of the Athletic Association of Ohio State University, will be the narrator when films showing the Buckeye football team in action are exhibited Dec. 1.

Representatives of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, Ill. will speak and exhibit motion picture films explaining the details of the high-speed diesel Caterpillar engine, Jan. 5.

The General Electric Co. will present a program Feb. 4.

On March 1, the Marion Serenaders, men's chorus which includes several Marion Power Shovel employes, will present a program of vocal numbers.

During the meeting, presided over by Clifford Midlam, president, the members launched a campaign to increase attendance at regular club meetings.

President and General Manager Harvey T. Gracely offered his backing in bolstering the attendance of the club and urged that efforts be made to at least double the average attendance at meetings. He praised the loyalty and activity of foremen's club officers and stressed order and good housekeeping throughout the Shovel plant to increase safety and efficiency of employes.

He cited the improvements being made in buildings in the Marion Power Shovel group, which have the approval and commendation of top executive personnel of the company.

Reads Reports

Secretary of the club, Harold Everly, read the report of the September meeting, and the club's outing at Detroit, and presented the report of the club auditors, prepared by G. R. Rider and Dwight Wilcox.

With Tom Pake at the piano, entertainment chairman Walter Corrigan led singing by the club. Quartet numbers by Merle V. Lashey, Irving L. Dutt, Charles E. Williams and Walter Corrigan completed the musical program.

With Garold Armbruster in charge of projection, three motion picture films were presented. A hunting film, "Pleasant Fever," a fishing film, "Fishing in Alaska," courtesy of Nash Motors, and a comedy, "Vera Has Her Way," courtesy of Westinghouse, were shown.

Tito Attacks Church As Major Enemy

RANKOVICEVO, YUGOSLAVIA, Oct 8—(AP) — Premier Marshal Tito has listed the Roman Catholic Church as one of Yugoslavia's major enemies in the western world.

He spoke yesterday in this southern Serbian town to a crowd officially estimated at 50,000, gathered at the graves of 5,000 persons massacred here by the Germans 10 years ago. His speech was made public today.

"It would be wrong to believe," Tito said "after all the help which America, Britain, France and other western countries have given us, that, in these countries which seem friendly to us, there are no enemies of our country. There are.

"In the first place there is the Catholic Church—the Vatican—which is undermining our position in all the countries where we are seeking the help which we need."

He coupled Yugoslav refugees abroad with the Catholic Church as enemies of his government.

from their stronger demands made frequently since the talks broke off more than six weeks ago.

In their message Sunday they finally agreed, for the first time, the talks could be moved from Kaesong.

Demands Omitted

It was also noted the Reds did not repeat their demands that "appropriate machinery" be established to deal with alleged U. N. violations of the Kaesong neutral zone.

Instead the Communists merely said that this machinery should be set up to discuss "concrete and strict regulations" for the neutralization of the conference site.

The Reds, in suspending the talks Aug. 23, charged a United Nations warplane bombed and strafed the Kaesong armistice site. The U.N. command denied that.

A series of charges and denials followed. The U.N. admitted only two of the many violations charged by the Reds. Both, the Allies said, were accidental.

The bickering led Ridgway to propose a new site for the armistice talks.

On Sept. 27 he suggested the truce negotiations be held at Songhyon. When the Reds turned that down he put it to them this way, in effect: "OK, then, you pick a spot in no-man's land."

The Reds Sunday said they still thought Kaesong was the best place, but they agreed to shift the site to Panmunjom.

Until Ridgway's reply was released Monday night, headquarters officials in Tokyo maintained a tight-lipped silence.

Ridgway's reply to the Communists was broadcast to the Reds at 8:30 p.m. tonight (6:30 a.m. E.S.T.) by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen, Jr., chief of information.

It will be handed to a Red liaison officer at Punmanjom at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday (6 p.m. Monday E.S.T.).

South Koreans Object

South Korean government officials attacked the Red proposals immediately.

South Korean foreign minister Pyun Yung Tai said the Reds' proposal to enlarge the neutral zone meant an inevitable extention of the Communist "sanctuary" within South Korea.

"We all hope that General Ridgway will not yield to this Communist demand," Pyun said. "It is a fact that as soon as Kaesong, which had been a military vacuum, was neutralized it came under the Communist military control as never before.

"Since the Communists are determined to use these cease-fire talks as a means to solidify and augment their striking power, not to achieve real peace, it is high time the U.N. command sent them an ultimatum so worded that noncompliance . . . would automatically mean the nullification of the Kaesong neutral zone."

Government spokesman Clarence Rhee declared that an extension of the neutralized zone southward is "dangerous and we don't like it."

2. The stretchen drive to win approval of the House Public Works Committee for the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project started today.

The committee first hears witnesses opposing the project, which has been before Congress off and on for 20 years. Then it will turn to witnesses who want work to start at once.

Today's hearing comes only a few weeks after Canada told this country that she will proceed alone in the estimated $818,000,000 development if the U. S. refuses to join in.

Escapee Shot By Sheriff Is Improving

The condition of Seymour "Rocky" Southern has improved, City Hospital attaches reported today.

Southern, an escaped Ohio Penitentiary convict, was wounded and captured early Saturday by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer east of Marion.

Wounded by a slug from Retterer's .38 caliber revolver, Southern was first thought to be critical. However, he has recovered and is expected to be transferred to the penitentiary hospital in the near future.

He was struck in the middle of the back by the slug. It entered just to the right of the spinal column and left the body just above the right breast.

Prior to being captured by the sheriff, Southern, a native of Alabama, had been the object of a manhunt in Marion County for two days. He had walked away from an honor crew of the penitentiary last Wednesday, just one week before he was reported to have been paroled.

He told Sheriff Retterer he didn't believe he would have been paroled had he remained. Southern is being kept under guard at the hospital by deputies.

Royal Train Ready

On a special siding, the royal train chugged in readiness. On its route from the airport, a huge gilt arch had been erected, and work still was continuing on it only a couple of hours before the plane's scheduled arrival. Laborers tacked up bunting and ran up flags.

The road leading to the airport was lined with big red, white and blue posts, atop which were crossed Union Jacks.

The huge blue and silver royal airliner took off last night from London airport for the month-long visit to this senior dominion and to the United States. It veered south of its scheduled course to avoid rough weather.

The Royal party took off last night from London airport for a month-long visit to the senior dominion and to the United States. At 12:15 a.m. E.S.T., the big stratocruiser, named "Canopus," was reported at the mid-Atlantic point.

Alters Course

Soon after, pilot Jones altered the plane's course about 120 miles south of its intended route to clear rough weather.

Queen Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and a crowd of 1,500 were on hand as the royal aircraft left London in a light fog.

On this end the only upset in plans was the wet blanket tossed in by the weather man. He predicted low temperatures and rain during most of the day, with skies clearing in the evening.

The threatening weather, however, was not expected to keep back the thousands of eager Canadians who had made plans to converge on the airport for a possible glimpse of the 25-year-old Elizabeth and her handsome husband. Several hundred gathered there yesterday, despite a slow cold rain, to watch a rehearsal of the welcome.

The brief program at the airport called for a 21-gun salute as the princess touched Canadian soil, greetings by the governor-general, Viscount Alexander, and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, and some remarks by the princess.

Then the princess and the duke were to drive past the crowds to the royal train, on a siding inside the airport, for the trip to Quebec.

The tour officially begins there tomorrow, with a full day of activity. Elizabeth and Philip originally were due on Oct. 2, but were delayed a week because of the serious lung operation performed on King George VI.

Encouraging medical reports that the king was continuing to improve apparently have dispelled much of the concern which had been expected to cast a pall over the visit.

Three Chicago Men Arrested After Car Theft

Captured By Patrol Following Extensive Search

Three Chicago men are being held in the city jail today for investigation of auto theft. They were apprehended following an extended search in Crawford County yesterday.

They are Charles Walter Ivory, 23, Dewitt C. Miller, 38, and Robert Bernard Hall, 28. They are members of a Pennsylvania Railroad section gang engaged in rebuilding a section of the railroad west of Upper Sandusky, police reported.

Report Theft

Marion police received a report of a car being stolen from its North Main street parking place at 9:20 p. m. Saturday. It was owned by James Drake of 228 North Main street. The auto was a 1950 Willys station wagon.

A radio message reporting the theft was sent out by Marion police who alerted the state highway patrol, police and sheriff's departments in surrounding counties.

At 9:30 a.m. yesterday a minor accident was reported involving the station wagon and another car on U.S. Route 30-N west of Upper Sandusky. The station wagon had run out of gas and stopped in the traffic lane and another car had hit the stopped auto.

Patrolmen said they did not know the name of the driver of the other car who went to a nearby farmhouse and called the Findlay station of the state highway patrol.

There were four men in the station wagon at the time of the collision. As soon as the patrolmen arrived they left the scene, running through the woods. They went to the railroad camp on the nearby railroad where they were employed.

Ask Assistance

The Findlay patrolmen called for assistance in searching the camp. Three cars from the Marion patrol station, one from the Marion police department, two from the Wyandot County sheriff's department, one from the Upper Sandusky police department and four from the Findlay patrol station arrived on the scene.

A search of the railroad camp was made and the three men were arrested. They were brought to Marion to the city prison. Cpl. Tom Morgan of the Marion patrol station said charges will probably be filed tomorrow. He said all the men arrested have long arrest records in other cities. Two other men are being sought for questioning in connection with the theft.

PARIS Oct. 8—(AP)—General Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived in Paris today enroute to Greece and Turkey where, with British and French representatives, he will conduct exploratory talks on the entrance of these two nations in the Atlantic Pact organization.

Bradley told newsmen he had come to France to meet his French and British counterparts for discussions with General Eisenhower before leaving for the Near East, probably on Wednesday.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Crime Photographer, Meet Boston Blackie

There were a number of interesting lines in "Crime Photographer," the television version, the other night. One I cherish especially came from a reporter who, when queried as to why he wasn't on the scene of the crime, replied sheepishly. "Casey sent me back."

I never knew a photograpner to order reporters around this way, but it doesn't surprise me about Casey. Casey isn't above ordering around cops, the district attorney and perhaps even the managing editor, though I've never seen him commit that act of lese majeste yet. Casey, in short, is quite a lot different from all the other photographers I ever heard of. As one cop remarked to him in the same "You're a photographer—not a newspaperman." It's a remark that won't sit well with the rest of the newspaper photographers but it sums up Casey pretty accurately.

John Crosby

He isn't Casey is the sort of roving avenger whose job on "The Morning Express" is a complete mystery to me. He carries a camera only occasionally and uses it almost never. 'His appearance," it says here in a press release, "will be departure from the slouch-hatted, trench-coated lensman of the 'front page' school. He'll dress and, for the most part, behave like other people." Well, he dresses like other people—wears shoes and everything—but he hardly behaves like them, being required to be a lot more agile.

* * *

ON THIS SAME program, a bullet intended for Judge Ferguson missed him by two inches. The would-be assassin escaped and when Casey got back to the office, the managing editor, who acts like a distraught Westbrook Pegler, exclaimed. "I'm disappointed in you, Casey." His disappointment, it appeared, stemmed from the fact that Casey hadn't captured the gunman. On "The Morning Express," it isn't enough to be on the scenes of the crime. You have to apprehend the criminal manage the reporters and get pictures.

I don't think the Newspaper Guild would approve of this, unless the pay scales were rearranged substantially. "Crime Photographer" is the television version of a successful radio show which has roots in a couple of plays. In each new resurrection, the original idea gets watered down a little, corrupted a little more, and gradually pushed out of any resemblance of life around you, especially newspaper life.

* * *

TO MAKE UP for some of its more blatant distortions, 'Crime Photographer" likes to pull its stories out of the headlines as closely as possible. This one was concerned with crooked judges, crooked cops, crooked everybody. It sounded like the Staten Island waterfront at its worst. More than that, it resembled a domestic Iron Curtain wherein a man couldn't trust anyone in official position. As a dramatic device it's preposterous and(according to the Kefauver committee and the Gross testimony, only too true and more than a little disturbing.

* * *

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL radio show that has been transformed recently to television, for reasons which escape me, is "Boston Blackie," man whose occupation is even more puzzling than Casey's. "Enemy of those who make him an enemy! Friend of those who have no friends!" says the announcer in exclamatory prose at the outset of the show. Boston Blackie, in short, is just another Robin Hood, a man without visible means of support who gets the gunbutt on his noggin in defense of the little girl the mob is after.

This enterprise is on film, and, while I have no exact information on the subject, it sounds like something that was made in Hollywood. It was brimful of such stirring dialogue as "Hey, what's going on in here?" or—and I prefer this—"It doesn't make sense—no fingerprints, everything locked up. How did the killer get out the door?" Its acting, direction and production were a series of overpowering clinches, its characters were stereotypes, and its general level of intelligence was about that of a grade B Charlie Chan.

SOLON KO'S THUG. Representative Pat Sutton (D-Tenn.), 35, tells Washington newsmen how he knocked down with one punch an armed would-be holdup man who accosted him in an alley, a block from the Capitol. Sutton a hero of World War II and the most decorated member of Congress, swung once with his right and then went to a nearby house to phone the police. When he returned the thug was gone.

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

Circle 1 of the WSCS of Wesley Methodist Church were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs Blanche Durham on West Columbia street. Mrs Minnie Baughman presided for the meeting and Mrs Verna Rice conducted devotions. Various committee reports were given and 18 members reported 64 calls made. Plans were made to participate in a bazaar to be held at the church in December.

The program, in charge of Mrs Edith Bush, included a playlet, readings and group singing. Sentence prayers by various members closed the meeting. Mrs Montag was a guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs Emma Lehman on Windsor street.

Safe Taken From Galion Oil Co. Offices

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 8—The officers of the Cities Service Oil Company near Galion were burglarized over Saturday night, a safe opened, and an undetermined amount of money and merchandise taken.

The burglary investigation is being continued today by Crawford County Sheriff Ralph Schreck.

The offices were broken into and the safe removed from the building and chiseled open. An audit is being made today to determine what is missing from the safe.

W. J. Neff, agent, said the safe contained some money. He said that the burglars must have worked in the rain as some of the papers were wet which had been removed from the safe and then placed back in the safe.

Locks on the front door of the office were jimmied to enter the building. Neff said that some merchandise also is missing from the building, but that is being checked today to determine what was taken. Sledge hammers and chisels were used by the burglar or burglars to remove the bottom of the safe, Sheriff Schreck said.

This is the second time in about four months that the plant offices have been entered. In the spring, the safe was hauled down the road and dumped into a culvert.

Galion police discovered the burglary Sunday at about 8 a.m.

Sixteen members were present, and guests were Mrs. John Stafford, Mrs. Emerson Fields and Mrs. George Stafford and daughter, of Marion, Mrs. Ora Myers of Edison, Mrs. Jerome Tittlebaugh of the Salem community, and Mrs. Helen Kelley and daughter of Claridon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Haley.

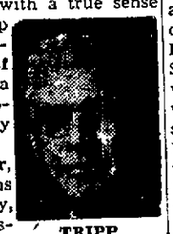
Selling Santa Short

By FRANK TRIPP

I HAVE a letter from a mother who decries the multiple Santa Clauses that infest city streets and stores before each Christmas. She says they are an insult to the intelligence of children. Many will agree that she has something there.

What to do about it? The lady has an idea that sounds new. She says let the community choose with care, and with a true sense of showmanship just one character capable of portraying Santa Claus — in proportions, joviality and voice.



TRIPP

Then to debar, by what means she doesn't say, all of the miscellaneous skimby nondescript impersonators who confuse children, arouse their suspicions, and wreck their faith.

I've often wondered what a tot thinks, not only of Santa but of his own parents, as they tote him through the streets and from store to store to encounter a new, a vastly different and often a very ridiculous Santa Claus at every turn.

He is told that Santa Claus is a mysterious unseen saint, who if detected may not stop at his house. He worships pictures of a real Santa, a fat, laughing, red-faced, white-bearded friend of children, with "a little round belly that shakes when he laughs like a bowlful of jelly." Don't be fooled; the image of a real Santa Claus becomes indelibly imprinted in his little mind.

* * *

THEN HIS MAMA takes Willie down town to see Santa Claus. The same mama who would spank him if he tried such a fake on her. First step off the bus he sees Santa in front of a kettle ringing a bell. Santa's brown pants hang below his faded, motheaten, once red jackets, which was cut like a night shirt in hope to meet such an emergency.

Willie gets hurried along: "no that's not Santa Claus," he's told. "Well then, who is he?" the poor kid thinks. On the next corner Santa carries a banner, wears glasses, chews tobacco, is about six feet tall and is visiting with a pal about how long he can stick on relief.

The kid turns the corner and bumps into another Santa with a sign fore and aft: "After shopping dine at the Greasy Spoon; ham and eggs 35c." He can't read it so mama reads it for him: "It says that children must mind and be truthful," she says.

Then they get to the big store from which Santa has been talking over the radio. There's a pretty good Santa there; except that the pillow has slipped down in his pants and his whiskers don't move when he tells Willie to be good if he wants things that his store sells. The kid notices it, but musters up faith and goes through with the act.

Mama is sure that Willie has bought a bill of goods; then remembers something she's got to buy at another store. They go there—and at the door the kid gets all befuddled again. There's another Santa Claus. This one's short and fat as he's supposed to be, but he's got a squeaky voice like a barbership tenor. Willie goes home, wondering who's nuts, he or Santa Claus.

* * *

MY LADY correspondent has a remedy for all this commercializing of Santa Claus. If it must be, she says to have the "real" Santa sponsored by all of the stores and visit them at such intervals as needs be to make the sponsorship worth while, there to be seen as the one and only Santa Claus—and to be made up and garbed like he was the real article.

Maybe it wouldn't work. But, with the lady, and as one who believes that the romance of Santa Claus should get more respect, I'd like to see it tried.

To her idea I'd like to add how we've always handled it with our children. They have never "seen" Santa Claus and are told they never will. We tell them that all of the funny folks they see dressed like him are just "Santa's helpers"; that the world is so big and Santa so eager to miss no child on Christmas that he has to have helpers in many places.

It works and will preserve faith for years after little friends have tried to sell Santa short to your children.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

I have schooled myself to receive my father's often astounding announcements with outward composure, but the thing he had just told me startled me into excited response.

"Father! You mean that Mildred, Bess and I are to have unlimited expense accounts when we purchase new gowns and accessories for this New Haven dinner party?"

"I mean exactly that," he said, smiling. "If you are this excited, what will Mildred's reaction be? I gather that her income is limited. Bess, of course, will take the whole thing in stride. She is used to large expense accounts in her peculiar line of work."

I remembered the nonchalance with which Bess had told me of the purchase of a large and most expensive imported doll, so that she could use the tiny cosmetic containers and other toilet articles in the small overnight bag which she carried with her on assignments, and nodded my assent to his remark about her, even as I voiced a fear as to Mildred's reaction to the scheme.

"I am sorry to betray excitement," I told him, "although I am sure almost any woman not in the super-rich class would be thrilled at the prospect of carte blanche at a fashionable shop. But I fear one difficulty—Mildred's pride. She is a girl who has been used to wealth, but whose parents are now in exceedingly straitened circumstances, and I understand from Bill that she bends backward about receiving unearned favors from anyone."

"That will be your first task, then," he returned with maddening composure; "to convince her that this is an earned favor, nothing person, but just an item in the program I have carefully outlined. Stress the point that you and Bess will also purchase similar outfits, and make her see that this sophisticated gowning is one of the details of this affair upon which I am insisting. I am sure you will have no trouble with her."

"There is one angle of this which I am afraid will cause her much distress," I persisted.

"What is that?" he asked, and I saw that his eyebrows were knitting, sure sign that he was annoyed by what I was telling him.

"There are shops in Northampton catering to the students from wealthy families, which could furnish you the outfit you wish," I said slowly, "but Mildred cannot patronize them. If she bought her outfit there, the fact would be known to all her friends—and her enemies, if she has any, which I doubt; but at any rate to casual acquaintances, together with the exact price she paid for it. I think that would be intolerable for her."

"Then she must buy her outfit elsewhere," my father decided swiftly. "Tell her that I do not wish her to go back to Northampton with the boys in the morning. I will get in touch with my friends at the college and see that they approve that arrangement. Have her go with Bess and yourself as soon as the shops are open here, to the one Bess knows best. Then you can buy your gowns, be fitted immediately for alterations, and Bess can arrange to get Mildred's dress when she has her own delivered and carry it to New Haven with hers."

"But," I protested, a bit bewildered by the velocity of my father's plans, "those shops are so slow in alterations, and you wish us to be prepared to go to New Haven at any minute."

IN 1776, AMERICANS GAVE THEIR LIVES FIGHTING A GOVERNMENT WHICH HAD REFUSED TO RESPECT THEIR INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

THE BRITISH KING HAD—

1. TAKEN THE PROPERTY OF SOME CITIZENS FOR THE SPECIAL BENEFIT OF OTHERS.
2. CONTROLLED PRICES AND TRADE.
3. USED THE PEOPLES' TAX MONEY TO MAINTAIN A HUGE BUREAUCRACY WHICH INTERFERED WITH THE PEOPLES' LIBERTY.

AMERICANS REVOLTED AGAINST THESE VIOLATIONS OF THEIR INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS. THEY FORMED A GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT THE GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS OF EVERY PERSON—THE RIGHT TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY.

SINCE 1917 THERE HAVE BEEN 1¼ MILLION AMERICAN CASUALTIES IN THE NAME OF "LIBERTY." BUT IN NAME ONLY—FOR OUR GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN DOING ALL THE THINGS OUR FOREFATHERS FOUGHT AGAINST!

1. IN 1950 IT TOOK 23 BILLION DOLLARS OF THE PEOPLES' TAX MONEY (PROPERTY) FOR SUBSIDIES, SPECIAL AIDS, LOANS AND GRANTS FOR PRIVILEGED GROUPS.
2. THE FEDERAL RESERVE ACT, THE WALSH-HEALY ACT AND MANY OTHER LAWS GIVE OUR GOVERNMENT PEACE-TIME CONTROL OVER PRICES AND TRADE.
3. THE PEOPLES' TAX MONEY IS USED TO MAINTAIN A HUGE BUREAUCRACY OF OVER 2¼ MILLION PEOPLE.

WE HAVE PERMITTED OUR GOVERNMENT TO TAKE AWAY THE VERY RIGHTS EARLY AMERICANS FOUGHT FOR—AND THE FREEDOM WHICH WE ARE SUPPOSEDLY FIGHTING FOR TODAY!

Copyright 1951, F. W. Overesch

SO THAT OUR SONS, BROTHERS, HUSBANDS AND FATHERS MAY NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN, WE MUST INSIST ON A MORAL PURPOSE FOR OUR GOVERNMENT!

YOU HAVE a natural right—from God—to protect your Life, Liberty and Property. These are the three basic requirements for making your own living. These three gifts of God were given you with the responsibility for your own existence. And keeping any one of them is dependent on the other two. Isn't your LIBERTY to use the talents and faculties with which you were born an extension of your God-given INDIVIDUALITY? Isn't your PROPERTY an extension of the LIBERTY to use your God-given faculties?

If every individual has the right to protect his God-given Life, Liberty and Property, then a group of men have the right to organize and support a common force—a government—to protect these rights constantly.

Thus, a moral government must be formed on individual God-given rights, so—

THE PURPOSE OF OUR GOVERNMENT MUST BE—

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP—AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

All history proves that when a government does not have this purpose it becomes immoral

Since an individual cannot lawfully use force against the Life, Liberty or Property of another individual,—then a moral government cannot lawfully be used to destroy the God-given Life, Liberty or Property of individuals or groups.

GUIDE FOR FREEDOM
JUDGE ALL LAWS BY ASKING—
"DOES THIS LAW PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL IN HIS GOD-GIVEN RIGHT TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF?"

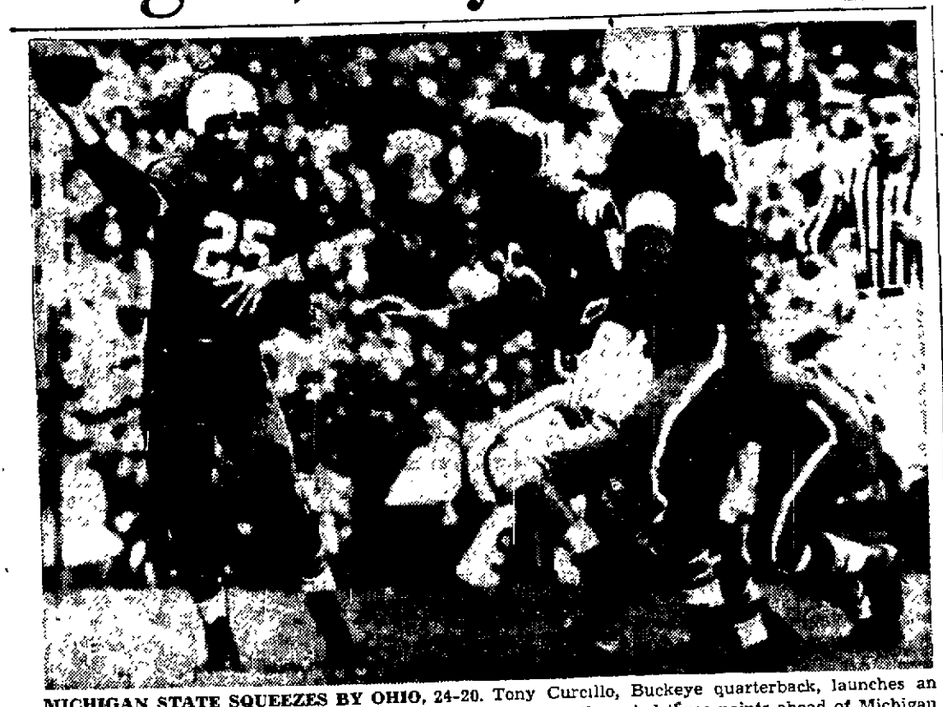
Maglie, Reynolds Opposing Pitchers for 4th Series Game



MICHIGAN STATE SQUEEZES BY OHIO, 24-20. Tony Curcillo, Buckeye quarterback, launches an aerial in Ohio State's attack that brought them to the fourth period three points ahead of Michigan State. Previously unscored on this season, the Spartans reeled off two touchdowns in the final period, to eke out a 24-to-20 victory before more than 82,000 at Columbus.

Delay Seen as Break For American Leaguers

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—Saved by rain from gambling on Sain (John), Manager Casey Stengel switched to Allie Reynolds (17-8), his Yankee ace in an effort to even the World Series in today's fourth game at the Polo Grounds. Reynolds will go against Sal Maglie (23-6), the Giants' best. Game time is 1:00 p.m., (E.S.T.).

The weatherman said today it would be cloudy, becoming fair, he predicted continued cool, windy weather with a high temperature in the 60s.

Stengel had pondered a change from Sain to Tom Morgan for the Sunday game, holding Sain for relief, when the game was postponed by rain and wet ground, he gladly hopped to Reynolds.

Down 2-1 in games after losing Saturday, Stengel would have been forced to match a second string pitcher with the Giants' close-shaving barber. Now it's ace against ace.

Confident

"I'm confident about Reynolds," said Stengel. "I know he can pitch better than he did in the first game."

"We would like to have played the game," said Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants "but I think it helps us as much as them Maglie can use that extra day of rest."

Reynolds, double no-hit winner in the regular season, failed Stengel Thursday in the opener at Yankee Stadium. The big Indian just didn't have it, giving up eight hits and five runs before he left after six innings. He was so anxious to get back at the Giants that he threw in the bullpen during Saturday's 6-2 Giant victory.

The Giants had to hold out Maglie until this late in the series because he worked the final playoff game against Brooklyn Wednesday. Sal left for a pinch-hitter after eight innings and Larry Jansen came in to get the win on Bobby Thomson's dramatic homer. The 34-year-old vet with the movie villian sideburns needs three days rest for a top effort He's had four.

Unless Stengel changes his mind, the Yanks will present a revised batting order with Hank Bauer leading off, Yogi Berra batting third and Gene Woodling, who hit a homer Saturday, in Yogi's old fifth spot.

Change?

Was Stengel thinking of moving Joe DiMaggio, hitless in 11 trips, out of the cleanup spot?

"No sir," Stengel answered. "I won't do it in the series. You show me anybody hitting for a good average. I couldn't put Berra in there. The young fellow hasn't been hitting. I changed them once and it didn't work out.

"It's pretty hard to change the lineup. We got three outfielders and that's all, unless I wanted to play Hopp or Joe Collins out there. All our extra hitters are left handers and I don't see where our lefthanders are hitting their pitcher anyhow.

ILLINI BEAT BADGERS IN CLOSE ONE, 14-10. Illinois' Johnny Karras (48), goes to his knees out of bounds after fielding an eight-yard pass on Wisconsin's 45-yard stripe in their important Big Ten contest at Champaign. Leading 10 to 7 as the final quarter started, Wisconsin lost in a hard driving finish when Illinois scored in the final minutes and successfully held the Badgers. More than 50,000 sat in at the game.

"Hate To Be Wisconsin," Says Mrs. Hayes, "Woody's Mad"

COLUMBUS, Oct. 8—(AP)—Mrs. Wayne Woodrow Hayes, charming wife of Ohio State's new football coach, said today:

"Oooh! I'd hate to be Wisconsin next Saturday. Woody's kinda mad."

The corpulent boss of the Bucks couldn't be reached by newsmen. He was locked up in his office, huddled with his staff around a motion picture projector figuring out just how Michigan State pulled that 24-20 game out from under the Bucks Saturday.

Mrs. Hayes, via telephone, confided:

"Woody doesn't blame anybody but himself for losing. He thinks he should have let the boys keep on passing when they were ahead 20 to 10, instead of telling them to just run the ball.

"He knew Michigan State was good, after they were rated the No 1 team, but he thought Ohio could win. Losing the game after being ahead is what upset him. He isn't downhearted, and neither is the team. All of them are just mad about the whole thing. Woody thinks this will make a better team of his boys. They'll be hard to get along with the rest of the way."

Most of the fans feel the same way. The usual howling of wolves after an Ohio State loss in a big game was missing. The more than 82,000 fans who saw the Spartans come to life in the last six minutes for two fourth-down scores—the climactic one as the result of a play cooked up on the bench seconds before—appeared satisfied the Bucks had not beaten themselves but had been victimized by a wily, well-manned foe.

Everyone appeared ready to string along with the Bucks and their new boss. In fact, practically all conceded the Ohioans appeared to be shoo-ins for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip. The Michigan State loss isn't figured in the conference standing this year.

Packers Trip Steelers, 35-33

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 8—(AP)—The Green Bay Packers frittered away a four-touchdown lead and then came from behind at slippery State Fair Park yesterday to nip Pittsburgh, 35-33, in a National Football League game before 8,324 fans.

The payoff was a 16-yard pass from Tobin Rote to Bobby Mann with less than five minutes showing on the clock.

Green Bay scored four of the first five times it had the ball before Pittsburgh opened up. The Steelers had the count down to 28-23 at the half and went ahead 33-28, in the third quarter.

It looked like a rout as the Packers drove 48 yards for touchdowns the first two times they had the ball.

Bucks Rated Over Badgers Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—(AP)—Ohio State's gridiron forces, with some of the pre-season luster dimmed by Saturday's loss to Michigan State, go after their first Western Conference conquest this week at Wisconsin.

Fighting mad after yielding two late touchdowns to let the Spartans come from 10 points back for a 24-20 conquest, the Bucks have their sights set on the conference crown.

And after the showing they made against the Nation's No. 1 team, the Ohioans are standout choices to take the title. Saturday's loss does not count in the championship race.

Wisconsin dropped a 14-10 conference game to Illinois Saturday, so the Badgers will be fired up for this week's fray, too. But the classy Bucks should be favored.

24 Games

The Ohio-Wisconsin game features a 24-game slate for Buckeye colleges this weekend. Other standout frays are Miami at Western Michigan, St. Bonaventure at John Carroll, Louisville at Cincinnati, Youngstown at Xavier, Colgate at Western Reserve, and Bucknell at Kent State.

Miami was defeated for the third straight year by Xavier last weekend, 32 to 14, but the defending champions are expected to bounce back in their opening Mid-American Conference scrap.

Ohio clubs won nine of 10 games without-of-state opponents last weekend, Ohio State being the only loser. This week 13 more games with foreign foes are on tap, giving the Bucks a chance to boost their present interstate edge of 24 wins against 11 losses,

Bearcats Win

Cincinnati's Bearcats, 34-0 victors over Hawaii Saturday, retained the state-wide lead with their fourth conquest. Kent State, newcomer to the Mid-American, paces that rugged loop with two victories, the latest 42-20 over Western Reserve. Ashland and Ohio Northern, which clash this week, are deadlocked for the Mid-Ohio Loop and lead with one win each while Wooster's surprising Scots are out front in the Ohio Conference with two victories.

Other games this week are: Friday—Capital at Marietta (N), and Otterbein at Kenyon, both in the Ohio Conference.

Saturday—Defiance at Cedarville, Wittenberg at Heidelberg, Wooster at Denison, Carnegie Tech at Akron, Bowling Green at Ohio U., Case at Ohio Wesleyan, Toledo at Dayton, Georgetown at Wilmington, Central State at Bluefield, Hiram at Grove City, Bluffton at Olivet, Muskingum at Slippery Rock, Oberlin at DePauw and Baldwin Wallace at Mount Union.

Browns Rally For Three TDs To Beat Rams

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct 8—(AP)—Trailing by three points at halftime, the champion Cleveland Browns sank the Los Angeles Rams with a three touchdown salvo in the third quarter yesterday and went on to win, 38-23, in a National Football League thriller played before 67,186 fans.

The proud Rams went into the game as slight favorites, and for a time it appeared as if the fans, gathered under a scorching sun, would finally see their Rams beat the Browns.

Dashes Hopes

But within the space of five minutes in the third quarter, quarterback Otto Graham dashed these hopes.

Graham got the Browns off on their first successful long drive. It lasted for 57 yards and ended when halfback Kenny Carpenter scored from two yards out. That put the Browns in front, 14-10.

Then, before the Rams or the astonished fans could realize what was happening, the Browns intercepted a Ram pass and scored quickly from the 20 in two plays.

Interception

Moments later, defensive halfback Warner Lahr intercepted another Ram pass and ran it back 20 yards with never a Ram hand touching him.

That blasted the Rams and left both clubs with one win and one loss apiece in the new National League race.

The first fatal pass was thrown by Norm Van Brocklin. The second came from the hand of the No. 1 Los Angeles quarterback, Bob Waterfield.

Stengel Will Be Back Next Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—Casey, Stengel, who tied a record by winning a pennant in each of his first three years as manager of the New York Yankees, will be back next year as pilot of the club.

Stengel said yesterday that improvement in his physical condition has prompted him to change his mind about retiring after the World Series. He still has a year to go on a two-year contract calling for an estimated $75,000 a year.

Dressen Seen Leading Brooks Again in '52

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—Charlie Dressen, whose Brooklyn club blew a 13½ game lead in seven weeks to lose the National League pennant to the New York Giants, will manage the Dodgers in 1952, the Associated Press learned today.

A top Dodger official revealed today Brooklyn held an organizational meeting last Saturday in which all the Dodger brass, except President Walter O'Malley, attended. That included vice presidents E J. (Buzzy) Bavasi and Fresco Thompson, Dressen, Coaches Clyde Sukeforth, Jake Pitler and Cookie Lavagetto, and several of the Dodgers' minor league managers.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said the announcement of the re-hiring of Dressen for next year will be made four or five days after the end of the World Series."

Claridon Rolls Over Sparta

Claridon rolled to its third straight win Saturday night at Mt. Gilead when the Hornets swamped Sparta, 48-20.

Ray Price spearheaded the attack with four touchdowns, one coming on a 68-yard gallop. Lon Earl crossed the goal line twice.

The winners rolled to a 30-0 lead in the first half. They added 12 points in the third stanza and six in the final.

Cards' Cross Aids Win Over City Rivals

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 —(AP)—Bill Cross, a 145-pound rookie scatback from West Texas State, barreled across for two touchdowns to fuse the Chicago Cardinals to a 28-14 National League upset victory over the Chicago Bears yesterday before 33,781.

The victory was the Cards 15th in 60 games with their cross-town rivals—the longest series in pro football.

The Cards ran up a 28-0 lead before the once-mighty Bears came to life behind Johnny Lujack's passing to score in the third and final periods.

TD Pass

Frank Tripucka rifled an 18-yard scoring pass to Cross in the first 52 seconds of the second quarter. A pass interference infraction against the Bears had given the Cards 27 yards to set up the touchdown.

Ventan Yablonski placekicked the first of his four extra points.

Seven minutes later in the second, Cross darted 39 yards for his second marker. It capped an 80-yard drive in seven plays, featuring Tripucka's 19-yard completion to Fran Folsfoot.

Fay, Osterholt Named To Head Chest Divisions

Two more leaders have been appointed to direct solicitation for the 1952 Marion County Community Chest drive, Oct. 16 through Oct. 25.

Robert W. Fay, McMillen Feed Mills manager, will head the industrial employes division, and Charles P. Osterholt, will organize the group soliciting the national firms.

Announcement of the appointments came from Charles D. Harmon, executive committeeman for this year's Red Feather drive.

"Mr. Osterholt and Mr. Fay are both experienced men, having led their respective divisions in last year's Red Feather drive," pointed out Mr. Harmon. "With their able leadership, I am confident that these two divisions will meet and exceed their quota of $19,552.80."

Over-all goal for the 1952 drive is $97,764, a 24 percent increase over last year's goal.

In addition to increases for all Red Feather agencies because of enlarged programs and higher operating costs, the 1952 goal includes $16,000 for Marion's new Red Feather Agency—the Marion County Family Service Society. After a year of research and investigation, the trustees of the Community Foundation approved the plans for the new agency which will operate during the coming year.

Its functions will be to assist families in the city and county with advice on child guidance, marital counsel, budget problems, and other matters pertaining to harmonious family and community relationships.

School of Religion Scheduled Tonight

Second session of the Marion County School of Religion will be tonight at Fust E.U.B. Church with Rev. Edwin Dickey of Bellefontaine tonight as forum speaker. He will be heard at 7:30.

Enrollment for classes following will be taken yet tonight, it was stated. The school will continue each Monday night through Oct. 22, with six classes being taught by local pastors and religious education workers.

Name Morrow Fair Board Officers

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD—All of the present officers of the Morrow County fair board were re-elected at the annual meeting of the Morrow County Agricultural Society held recently.

Officers are: President, Earl Hershner of Perry Township; vice president, Walter Hardesty of Bennington Township; treasurer, Virgil Crist of Peru Township; and secretary, Glenn Brown of near Mt. Gilead.

Members tentatively picked the third week in August as the date for the 102nd annual fair to be held in 1952. Resignation of Claude Shelton as the member of the board from Washington Township was accepted. Shelton has been co-chairman of the speed committee.

LET US SPRAY

NIANTIC, Ill.—(UP)—Church members had to spray the Niantic Methodist Church with DDT late this summer to permit Sunday morning services to be held. A swarm of bees lodged over a window outside the church and one Sunday forced the congregation to flee. Men put on protective clothing and removed the swarm then sprayed the church with DDT.
